NEWPORT

BY CRANSTON & NORMAN 144 THAMES STREET.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 12, 1855

BISHOP IVES, OF NORTH CAROLINA, LEC TURING ON ROMANISM IN NEWARK .-- A large and respectable audience was attracted to St. Mary's Hall, (Roman Catholie,) in High street, last evening, to listen to the lecture of Dr. Ives, late Eplacopal Bishop of North Carolina, before the Young Men's Catholic Association. His subject appeared to be Divine Authority. or the supremacy of the spiritual over the temporal order of things. He maintained that there was implanted in the heart of man an inherent respect for authority; and If there was any authority to which he should yield more implicit obedience, it was the authority of God. No man had a right to act independently of Christ, who commanded his apostles to "Go and teach all nations," &c., and every man was bound to receive his teachings. He referred to the teachings of the apostles themselves to support of spiritual supremacy, as well as to the lives and conduct of the Christians of the early centuries. He then dwelt upon the beauties of true religion-which ha claimed was Catholic-and concluded with an effective allusion to the mission of the Catholic, which he characterized as 4'one of peace and self sacrifice, a minister of leve to his race, and in some shape a type or representative of Him who sent him." Dr. Ives is an agreeable and pursunsive speaker, and his opinions were advanced with engastness and force. He was frequently applauded .- Newark Advertiser.

PREPAYMENT OF POSTAGE.—The Washington Union says: "In regard to the provision of the late law by which all letters sent between the United States are required to be prepaid, we understand înquiries are made at the department as to whether it applies to detters to be sent to foreign countries; and, if so, whether stamps or stamped suvelopes only can be assed in the propayment of the latter class of latters. The unswer is, that the late law in no respect effects, letters for foreign countries. These will be treated as beretofore. Where prepayment on them is required, either stamps or money may be used. To certain foreign countries, as will be seen by the table of foreign postages in the hands of postmanters, prepayment is optional. The act of 3d March last referred to, has no reference to printed matter."

POST OFFICE DEFIORE. It is stated that the deficit this year will be about two millions and a half of dollars, or some three quarters of a million more than last year. There have been ended during the year 3700 miles of road service.

THE EUDORA MYSTERY The Mystery which has surrounded the schooner Eudore for some days past, has at length been partially alcared up. The wessel was mised Friday, but after a thorough search, no trace of the missing captain and crew could be discovered. It is therefore believed that Wilson, the negro cook, sunk the bodies in the river, and measures have been taken to recover them.

VIRGINIA.-The Hon. James M. Mason was on Saturday last-reelected a Senator in the Congress of the United States from Virginia for six years from the 4th of March, 1857. He received $8 majority over George W. Summers, the candidate of the American party.

"The following has been found, after several years experience, to constitute one of the best manures for fruit trees generally :-- A mixture of peat or swamp muck, with one half to one quarter of its bulk of stable manure, and one twentieth of leached nshes. These ingredients should lie in a head together for a few weeks and then be worked over. If for peach trees, the soap suds from the laundry thrown over the bear will improve it. If for cherry trees, which will not hear high manuring, the proportions of peat or muck should be larger, and with less of yard manure and ushes.

AMERICAN MOTHERS.—The Christian Remembrancer bewails the fact that in this country children have no mother,-not in books at least, if at their homes :

A mother's authority over her children is more shot lived in America than elsewhere. For this, we adduce not one book or one opinion, but the universal literature of America. Every book or story written for the instruction of young people, that we have seen-and America is prolific of these-practically ignores the mother's office, and maches children to do without her altogether. They are told to make themselves and others good and wise. The mother has no hand in it.-Little mother. less girls, with only their own sense to guide them, are the salvation of house holds .- They are wise, expert little women of business .- They buy and sell and conduct affairs. They are discreet in conduct, well informed in mind, graceful in carriage, all without a mother's training .-Indeed, we cannot call to mind a single mother, beyond the first few pages of an American child's book, unless she happens to be an unwise one, whom the child has to reform."

SELLING A HUSBAND.-A lady passed through Cleveland a few days since in hot pursuit of her husband, who had been smitten with a smart attack of "passional attraction," and had run away with another woman from Wyoming county, N. Y., to Lorain county, Ohio, She took a bruce of officers from Cleveland to Elyria. The gentleman, souffling the approach of danger, left his money with his nephew to effect a diversion with the enemy, and took the cars for the south. On reflection ho suspected the honesty of his nephew, and took the train back to look after his money. At Cleveland be encountered the pursuing party, and negotiations were opened. It resulted in the ladies selling out all her right, title and good will in and to her husband, and his purchasing a dishonorable peace for $500.53The lady returns to Wyoming without a husband, but [with $500 in her pocket.

The following lines were taken from a hymn book which a young lady had incau. tiously left behind her in a chapel :---

> "I look in vain, he does not come ; Dear, doar, what shall I do I I cannot listen as I ought Unless he listens too !

He might have come as well as not-What plagues these fellows are 1 1'il bet he's fast asleep at home, Or smoking a cigar !"

SLAVERY IN EGYPT .-- A letter from Alexandria of the 8th states that the Egyptain government has recently put into execution the decision come to by the divan relative to the abolition of slavery. Not only is it not allowed any longer to sell or buy slaves in Egypt, but all those in the possessions of private individuals were informed that they are free. All of them immediately left, and the first results has been that paid acreants have become very exacting as regards wages. The precipitation with which this measure has been carried into effect, will, it is feared, cause much suffering to those whom it is proposed to benefit, as from being thrown entirely on their own resources, they will have to suffer nevere privations before they find the means of maintaining themselves.-Galignani's Messenger.

UNEXPECTED MEETING .- There are two brothers of this city who follow the seas who had not had the good fortune to be at home at the same time, nor to see each other's faces elsewere, for a period , of six years, until a few days since. It then happened, on Sunday morning last, that they both arrived in Salem simultaneously, from different ports in South America, each one in a Salem yessel, and both vessels arrived at the same hour, six o'clock in the morning, the brothers both landing on the same wharf, within a few minutes of each other, after these years of separation. The incident of thus meeting was as interesting as the coincidence was surprising Salem Observer. 2.1

POOR MATSELL.-The New York Chief of Police has protested against the action of the Board of Aldermen in attempting to remove him from office, asserts that he is a native and demands an investigation by proper authority. Theroupon, Branch, the illustrious Stephen H., comes out with a letter which concludes as follows:-

In my travels through Europe and all over the world, I never saw so perfect a model of John Bull, in form, feature, and expression; and it is an insult, and almost sacrilege itself for such a mass of British humanity to pass himself off as an American. And the treacherous and mercenary American scoundrels who are laboring for their lives to make this perjured alien our master for years to come deserves the withering malediction of every American who loves the tomb of Washington.

MY ANGEL LOVE.

Mr. Willis thus introduces an unpublished poem of the late Mrs. Emily C. Judson. in a letter from Idlewild to the Home

"There is a poeta, written by one of our foster-children of genius, of which I am reminded by this question of angelic aid to our morial imperfectness of reach. I am not sure that it has ever been published .--Fanny Forrester wrote it, and it has been among my manuscripts till I have learned its inspired harmonies by heart. Even if it be found elsewhere in print, however, it will not be unrefreshing to read, for a change, a bit of the old fashioned poetry that has in it both menning and music. The widowed heart of the gifted one, with her apostle bushand just gone before her to beaven, thus exquisitely tells the story of their earthly love and its still lingering hold of their hands.' "

I gazed down life's dim labyrinth, A wildering maze to see, Crossed o'er by many a tangled clew, - And wild as wife could be : And as I gazed in doubt and dread An angel came to mo.

I knew him for a heavenly guide, I knew him even then, Though meekly as a child he stood Among the sons of men-By his deep spirit-loveliness,

And as I leaned my weary head Upon his profered breast, And scanned the peril-haunted wild

From out my place of rest, " I wondered if the shining ones Of Eden were more blest.

For there was light within my soul, Light on my peaceful way, And all around the blue above The clustering starlight lay; And easterly I saw upreared The pearly gates of day.

My angel love and !-His lifted wing all quivering With tokens from the sky; Strange my dull thoughts could not divine Twee lifted but to fly !

Again down life's dim labyriath I grope my way alone, While widely through the midnight sky Black harrying clouds are blown, And thickly, in my tangled path, The sharp bare thoras are sown:

Let firm my foot, for well I know The goal cannot be lar, And ever, through the rifted clouds Shines out one steady star, For when my guide went up, he left The pearly gates ajar!

Issignia of Bishop Ivas .- In the crypt of St. Peter's, at Rome, the curious travelter, as he pursues his journey by torchlight will find on the wall; near an altar, the following inscription in a frame, and covered with glass, which also covers a large gold cross, a seal ring, and a seal, which were deposited there by the late Bishop Ives of North Carolina :--

"Petro apostolo sanctissimo Pius IX. pontifex maximus insignia pseudo-pontificatus dono dat quae voto suscepto dono neceperat ab Levi Sillimano Ives Neo Carolina in Amer, pseudo-episcopo. Hic cognita catholica sapientia a partibus Anglicanor, in Vatic. resipuit et XI. Kal Jan an 1853, rite est absolutus VII. Kal ibidem ab ipso Pic IX. sacro est inunctus pave coeleste pastus."

A free translation of the above would be something like the following :-To Peter the most holy apostle, Pius IX. the High Priest has consecrated these insignia of a false priesthood, which he received in fulfilment of a yow from Levi Silliman Ives, a snam-Bishop in North Carolina, America. Having obtained the knowledge of the truth, on his way from England to the Vatican he came to his senses (respuit) and on the XIth of the Kalends of January, 1853, he was absolved, and on the VIIth of the Kalends of same month, he was unnointed with holy oil, and fed with heavenly bread by Pius IX, himself .- N. The Irish Court of Queen's Bench has decided that a clergyman may marry himself. The question arose as to the legitimacy of the children of a marriage thus performed: The Rev. S. S. Beamish was duly ordained a clergyman of the United Churches of England and Ireland, and itappeared that on the 27th of November, 1831, being then in holy orders, he went to the house of Anne Lyons, in the city of Cork, and there performed a coremony of marringe between himself and Isahella Fraser. The special verdict described the manner in which the ceremony took place, and the general form of the solemnization was that set out in the Book of Common Prayer of the United Churches of England and Ireland, Mr. Beamish then declaring that he took the said Isabella Fraser to be his wedded wife, she taking him to be her wedded husband. The wedding ring was then placed upon her finger, and the blessing was, pronounced. Judge Crampton delicraed judgment in tayor of the validity of the marriage.

In the ago in progress. In sommy is now a untinguished member of the medical profession:

St. Paul, January 1, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood, "Dear Six—Unsaticited, I send you this regifficate. After being nearly hald for a long time, and having rised all the hair restoratives extant, and having no faith in any, I was induced on hearing of yours, to give it a trial. I placed myself in the lands of a barber, and had my bend woll robbed with a good, stiff brods, and the Restorative then applied and well colled in, till the scalp was all a glow. This I repented viery morang, and in three weeks the young hair appeared, and grew rapidly from August last up to the present time, and is now thick, black, and strong—soft and pleasant to the touch, whereas before it was based and wiry, what fittle there was of it and that little was disappearing rapidly. I stid use your Restorative about twice a week, and shall soon have a good and perfect crop of hair. Now I have pead of these things—and who has not I—but have never seen hitherto, any case in which any person's hair was really benefitted by any of the lair tonice, &c., of the day; and it really gives me pleasure to record the result of my experience. I have recommended your preparation to others; and it already has a lateg and general sale throughout the Territory. The people here saw its effects, and have confidence in it. All who have used it here, will coincide with me in what I have experience. The supply you sent us, as the wholesale agents for the Territory, is already exhausted, and daily inguired are made in it. You deserve credit you sent us, as the wholesale agents for the Zerritory, its already exhausted, and daily inquiries are made for it. You deserve credit for your discovery. I for one return you hanks for the benefit it has done me, for I curvainly had despaired long ago, of ever effecting such result. I compatitlate you that your lortune (and a large one) is already made.

To the Proprietors of the Swedish Hair creator:
Geins.—Having been quite hald for the last six or soven years, I was induced by reading your afvertisquent, to make a trial of the Swedish. Hair Creator. It is now about five months since I commenced its nor, and my hair is growing again very lane, where previous to using your preparations, there was nobe at all, In ustice to your wonderful discovery I must add that I have tried every means in my power to reasons in which was not been a seen to do more harm than good. I take great pleasure in stating that I am now convinced of having my hair entirely reatored, and cheerfully give you this leatinout, hoping it may induce others who are skepted as I was, to give your Swedish Hair Creator a tair trial.

Various restorative warms were restored to without effect, when a friend recommended your Swedish Hair Creator. Inspired with fresh hopes I continued its application, and in six weeks, was rewarded by a growth of hair anche in length. It is now fall taught and precisely health, I then recommended it

Respectfully yours, Dit. HENRY BURTNETT, 179 East 17th street.

These preparations comprise a bottle of liquid and Jar of Ponarde. When applied at our rooms, no charge will be made unless the hair is entirely restored.

It never fails in restoring the hair when its loss has been caused by fever or sickness; and seldom requires more than one bottle to arrest its falling out.

As an article of tollet it is invaluable, as it keeps its fulling out.

As an article of tollet it is invaluable as it keeps the barr healthy, and gives it an extremely ele-

Babbes is generally hereditary. Mathers should use it upon their children's heads, as it not merely aids the growth of the hoir, but is sure to prevent ultimate baldings.

The tollowing recommendations have been furnished gratuitously.

Louisville, Jan. 27, 1851.

The Lightning Conductors on the plan of J. Spratt, of Cincinnati, appear to be very well devised, and in point of mechanical construction, are the best I have ever stene.

It is to be dioped that the use of these rods may become general as an important auxiliary defence against a danger which mast be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable.
